

DIVISION OF EDUCATION AND SOCIAL SCIENCES

The Division of Education and Social Sciences consists of three departments: education and psychology; social science; and health, physical education and recreation. The main divisional goal is to provide a curriculum that will meet general education requirements and also meet requirements for majors in teacher education, social work, political science, history, geography, physical education, health, sociology, psychology, and criminology.

DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION AND PSYCHOLOGY

The psychology curriculum has been designed to (1) provide a general background of the principles of psychology and their application, (2) promote understanding of self and others through knowledge of basic concepts of psychology, and (3) provide courses which satisfy core curriculum requirements, some education requirements, and some nursing requirements.

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH, PHYSICAL EDUCATION, AND

The courses provided through the physical education department present a holistic approach to health and provide the student with the opportunity to develop skills physically, mentally, emotionally, socially, and recreationally. All physical education majors, veterans included, are to complete four courses of physical education activities. Veterans who are not kinesiology physical education majors will receive physical education credit for their military service. The department provides the students and faculty with a quality intramural program and promotes an overall wellness environment for all students and employees. The department provides some services to the community.

INTERNATIONAL STUDIES

The person working in today's world cannot be limited in outlook to a town, a state, or even a nation. That person must have an international perspective. An understanding of the history and culture of other nations is becoming more vital each day.

Students who are interested in careers in international relations, diplomacy, law, politics, government service, or secondary education in social science may be well served by an emphasis in international studies. In addition, students who will enter other careers need an understanding of other cultures in order to enhance their effectiveness in the diverse contacts that are a part of today's environment in business, education, and other fields.

The emphasis in international studies is designed to assist students in developing a global perspective. This study could be the foundation for a career-and it could enhance one's effectiveness in other areas of life.

The courses that apply to the Associate of Arts in liberal arts with an emphasis in international studies are listed below. These courses are chosen from the offerings of several academic divisions. Students should select courses with the approval of an advisor in the Education/Social Sciences division in order to fulfill the requirements of the four-year institution to which they plan to transfer.
