Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) Definitions

Financial Aid Warning
Students who fail to meet the Satisfactory Academic Progress policy will be placed on Financial Aid Warning for the following fall, spring or summer semester of ASU-Beebe enrollment. Students on warning will be eligible to receive Federal financial aid. No appeal is necessary.

Financial Aid Suspension
Students who fail to meet the minimum Satisfactory Academic Progress requirements at the end of their financial aid warning semester will be placed on financial aid suspension and will lose their eligibility to receive Federal financial aid. To regain Federal financial aid eligibility, students must complete course work at their own expense until the policy minimums are met OR the student may appeal if they feel they have unusual or mitigating circumstances. The steps to the appeal process can be found at http://www.asub.edu/academics/student-support/financial-aid/appeals

Financial Aid Probation
Students who submit an appeal to the Financial Aid Appeals committee and have an approved appeal will be placed on Financial Aid Probation. A student may receive Federal financial aid during this period. Students will be monitored at the end of each semester and must be meeting Satisfactory Academic Progress or met the criteria of their Student Success Academy plan. If student fails to meet either, they will be placed on Financial Aid Suspension and the student will not be eligible to receive Federal financial aid.
