Family Educational Rights and Privacy Policy

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) requires institutions of higher education strictly to protect the privacy of all students who are or who have been in attendance. Information contained in the student's education records can be shared only with those persons or entities specified within the Act. The law also provides that students have the right to review their education records for the purpose of making any necessary corrections. The Office of the Registrar maintains a copy of the full text of FERPA, posts electronic information on FERPA, and processes FERPA challenges.

Disclosure of Education Records

Disclosure with student consent

- A student may consent in writing to disclosure of education records. The student's written consent must be signed, dated, and specify which records are to be disclosed, to whom, and for what purpose. The consent must be delivered to the Office of the Registrar. The student may retract the consent in writing at any time. Proper proof of identity may be required by the Registrar's Office before consent is retracted.

Disclosure without student consent

- ASU may disclose education records without the student's written consent to any school official within the institution with a legitimate educational interest. School officials include administrators, supervisors, faculty members, instructors, support staff, members of the Board of Trustees, persons with whom ASU has contracted for special tasks, and university committee members. A school official has a legitimate educational interest if the official needs to review an education record in order to fulfill his or her professional responsibility. School officials of ASU are considered to be within the institution for the purposes of FERPA and may exchange education records without student consent so long as they have a legitimate educational interest.

- Disclosure without student consent may also be made to other persons and entities as allowed by FERPA.

- Faculty sponsors of registered honor societies may have access to student education records for the sole purpose of determining eligibility for membership on the basis that they are acting in an official university capacity that is integral to the education function of ASU.

- The parents of students may exercise rights under FERPA if the student is claimed as a dependent by the parents for income tax purposes. Dependency must be proven by submission of a copy of income tax returns.

- Upon request, the university discloses education records without consent to officials of another school in which a student seeks or intends to enroll, or where the student is already enrolled so long as the disclosure is for purposes related to the student's enrollment or transfer.

Directory information may be disclosed to any person or entity without student consent unless the student submits a completed request for non-disclosure of directory information form to the Office of the Registrar. If a student elects not to allow disclosure of directory information, ASU cannot share information regarding the student with any person or entity including prospective employers, licensing agencies, government agencies, the media, and others. The student may retract the directory information non-disclosure in writing at any time. Proper proof of identity may be required by the Registrar’s Office before the directory information non-disclosure is retracted.

Directory Information is designated to be the student’s name; local and permanent physical addresses; electronic mail addresses; telephone listings; photographs and electronic images; date and place of birth; major field of study; participation in officially recognized activities and sports; weight and height of members of athletic teams; dates of attendance; degrees and awards received; and the most recent previous educational agency or institution attended by the student.

Students have the right to inspect and review their education records except for specific exclusions contained within the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act. A student should contact the Office of the Registrar to arrange for inspection, review, and correction of an educational record. The Registrar may charge a fee for copies of any education records.

Education records are the property of ASU. Education records, including transcripts and diplomas, will not be released to any student who has a delinquent financial obligation to the university.

ORGANIZATION

ASU-Beebe is a public two-year institution located 35 miles northeast of Little Rock and 110 miles southwest of Jonesboro and has been in continuous operation since 1927. During this time it has been known by five different names:

1. Junior Agricultural School of Central Arkansas (1927)
2. Junior Agriculture College of Central Arkansas (1931)
3. Arkansas State College-Beebe Branch (1955)
4. Arkansas State University-Beebe Branch (1967)
5. Arkansas State University-Beebe (2001)

The institution operates under the policies of the Board of Trustees and President of the Arkansas State University System. Programs at ASU-Beebe function separately under the leadership of the Chancellor. As an operationally separate institution of the Arkansas State University System, ASU-Beebe consists of the campuses in Beebe, Heber Springs, Searcy and the educational center at Little Rock Air Force Base.

Since shortly after it was founded in 1927, ASU-Beebe has provided two years of course work for those who wish to transfer to senior institutions. It has also offered associate degrees and certificate programs which can prepare them to enter the workforce in two years or less. Its affiliation in 1955 with Arkansas State University has enhanced the institution's ability to combine the openness and flexibility of a community type college with the stability and tradition of a university system.

The institution was established by Act 282 of the 1927 Arkansas General Assembly as the Junior Agricultural College of Central Arkansas. Citizens of the community donated 320 acres of land to be used for buildings and agricultural purposes and the first classes were held in October 1929. Act 68 of 1931 expanded the institution by changing the name to Junior Agricultural College and by enlarging the curriculum to meet the requirements of a junior college.

The institution operated as an independent state-supported junior college until September 1955 when the Arkansas General Assembly by Legislative Act 84 abolished the institution as an independent organization and its administration and functions were assigned to Arkansas State College as a branch of the main campus at Jonesboro. By Act 3 of the 1967 Arkansas General Assembly, Arkansas State College became Arkansas State University on July 1, 1967, and the Beebe unit became Arkansas State University-Beebe Branch. In 1971 the responsibility for maintenance of financial records for the Beebe Branch was transferred from the office of finance of the Jonesboro campus to the business office of the branch campus at Beebe.

In 1977, the title of the chief officer of the branch was changed from dean to chancellor by an act of the General Assembly. Since that time the campus administration has been fully responsible for conduct of the institution's affairs. The chancellor is accountable to the president and the Board of Trustees of the Arkansas State University System.

Act 496, enacted by the General Assembly in 1985, established Arkansas State Technical Institute at Arkansas State University-Beebe to provide educational programs which combine academic skills and vocational training in highly technical employment areas. The first programs were implemented in the fall of 1987.

Act 1244, enacted by the General Assembly in 1991, and established the merger of White River Technical College and ASU-Beebe to create ASU-Newport, as an integral part of the ASU-Beebe system. However during the spring of 2000, the ASU Board of Trustees, the Arkansas Department of Higher Education and the Arkansas Higher Education Coordinating Board approved the status of ASU-Newport as a stand-alone campus pending completion of stated milestones. ASU-Newport met all of the stand-alone requirements and now reports directly to the ASU-System Board of Trustees and President. Act 90 of 2001 by the Arkansas General Assembly removed the term “branch” from legislation affecting ASU-Beebe.

The Heber Springs campus was established in response to the community's desire to have a two-year college presence in Cleburne County. Although continuing education classes had been offered in the area for several years, local community leaders contacted the president of the ASU system in 1997 expressing interest. The University conducted a Needs Assessment among several entities in the community and the surrounding areas. It was concluded that Cleburne County would benefit from a two-year college due to the geographic area and local support. In the legislative session of the 1999 Arkansas General Assembly, ACT 426 of 1999, officially established Heber Springs as a campus of ASU-Beebe. Effective July 1, 2003, Foothills Technical Institute in Searcy merged with ASU-Beebe to become ASU-Beebe's Searcy campus.

ASU-Beebe, with its campuses in Beebe, Heber Springs, Searcy, and at the Little Rock Air Force Base, functions as an operationally separate institution of the ASU System.
In the last two decades, enrollment has continually increased. Although the Beebe campus has on-campus residence halls, most of the students are commuters. ASU-Beebe continues to serve a large rural population as well as many urban commuters.

Physical changes on the Beebe campus have reflected decades of growth. The Abington Library, the fine arts and physical education facilities, a mathematics and science laboratory and classroom building, and the Advanced Technology Center were added before 1991. Facilities that have been added since 1991 include the Science Building, Veterinary Technology Building, Business and Agriculture Building, the Agriculture Equipment Technology building, the University Center Building, the Student Center, the Legacy and Horizon Residence Halls, a building to house the physical plant and purchasing, construction of new farm buildings following destruction by a tornado, renovation and expansion of the Abington Library, renovation of the former cafeteria area into a Music Center, and expansion of the Advanced Technology Center to accommodate rapid expansion in computer systems technology. Renovation of existing facilities in State Hall during 2003 provided additional classroom and office space. These facility additions highlight continuing efforts to expand the campus facilities as a part of the institution's long-range planning process to keep pace with expansion of the institutional mission. Additional facilities are being planned to include an academic building.

At the Heber Springs campus, changes were also occurring. Since January 2002, classes have been held in the John L. Latimer Skills Training Center located on Cleburne Park Road. This facility consists of 25,000 square feet of classrooms, science and computer labs, offices, and a welding lab. Property for a new campus was purchased (249 acres known as picturesque Sugarloaf Mountain) and construction of a new campus began in spring of 2006. The new facility opened in the fall 2007 at 101 River Crest Drive. Phase I is approximately 70,000 square feet in two buildings: an Academic Center and a Student Services and Administration Building. Technology-related programs, art classes, and adult education classes remain in the Latimer Center but all other classes are held on the new campus.

With the merger of Foothills Technical Institute with ASU-Beebe, all the physical assets belonging to Foothills Technical Institute were also transferred. An additional 17 acres of property adjacent to the Searcy campus were recently acquired. A master plan for the Searcy campus is currently being developed.

ASU-Beebe programs at the Little Rock Air Force degree center operate under a Memorandum of Understanding with the Department of Defense, which provides facilities used by the six universities resident at the Jacksonville-Little Rock AFB University Center. The new University Center, which opened in January 2011, was a project funded by the US Air Force and the City of Jacksonville, Arkansas. The University Center is conveniently located on USAF property located adjacent to Highway 67/167 and accessible to the general public. In its first year of operation at the University Center, the LRAFB center has enjoyed steady growth in student enrollment, a trend that is expected to continue for the foreseeable future.

Enrolling in Online Classes

Students must first be admitted to the university. Once admitted, they will contact their advisor to plan what online courses best meet their area of studies. After the advisor has released the advising hold, students will sign up for online classes through Campus Connect.

Earning a Degree Online

Students can take enough courses online to complete an Associate of Arts Degree in Liberal Arts. However, some students may not find electives in their chosen field of study offered online. It is also possible to earn enough credits through online courses to satisfy requirements for the Associate of General Studies Degree or a Certificate of General Studies. Consult an academic advisor within your chosen field of study to determine whether enough online course offerings exist for you.

Hardware & Software Requirements

Online courses are delivered through a learning management system known as Blackboard (Bb). This system provides instructors and students with access to course content, assignments, discussion boards, mail, chat rooms, whiteboards, quizzes, exams and other features as needed in an online environment. Anyone enrolled in an online course must have access to a computer and a reliable Internet service provider. Additionally, online students need to be comfortable using an Internet browser; navigating through Web sites; using a word-processing program; saving, moving, deleting and attaching files; and communicating through email. Some online classes may require specific software/hardware necessary for that particular course.

Technical Support

Online students have access to technical support Monday through Friday throughout the academic year. The Bb HELP Desk can be reached by calling (501) 882-4409 or by emailing BbHelpDesk@asub.edu.

Test Proctoring

To ensure the integrity of our online classes, ASU-Beebe requires that at least one major exam in each online course be proctored. Students can use proctoring services offered during specific dates/times on the different ASU-Beebe campuses or arrange to use an outside proctor provided that individual meets the division's proctor guidelines and is approved by the instructor. Please see the Distance Learning website for the complete policy.

The Workforce Development Coordinator provides a link between the university and area business and industry. The Coordinator works to provide training opportunities which are customized to a specific request from local business and industry. The Workforce Development Coordinator may be contacted at 501-207-6230.

Adult Education/GED Program

The Adult Education/GED Program on the Searcy campus offers a second chance for a person to get his/her high school equivalency certificate. Free classes are available during the day or evening hours. For more information, call (501) 207-6290.

Searcy Student Services

Counseling

Academic and personal counseling services are available to students and prospective students at the Searcy campus. The counseling office offers a wide variety of services designed to enhance student learning. Appointments may be made by calling 501-207-6212, though walk-in appointments are often available. Some services are referred to outside resources.

Students with disabilities who believe they may need accommodations are encouraged to contact the Coordinator of Disability Services as soon as they make the decision to enroll at Searcy. Disability services are coordinated through the Student Success Center at ASU-Beebe. Call 501-882-8906 for more information.

Financial Aid

Financial Aid consists of funds made available from federal, state, institutional, and private sources. Students should complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) each year to determine their eligibility for awards. Remember, Tax Time is FAFSA Time!!! The Financial Aid representative is occasionally on the Beebe campus on Wednesdays due to training. Keep an eye on postings in the financial aid office. Early contact and applications are recommended. Call 501-882-8245 or 501-207-6253 for more information.

Student Organizations

There are presently three organizations that are active on the Searcy campus: Arkansas Licensed Practical Nursing Association, SkillsUSA, and Student Voice. These organizations offer students opportunities for leadership and/or pre-professional experiences, as well as providing social activities.

Testing

Administration of standardized tests is coordinated through the Student Services office. Appointments are required. Contact 501-207-6200 for more information.
