WHAT IS A MEDICAL LAB TECHNICIAN?

Medical Laboratory Technicians are a critical part of a patient's healthcare team. They are responsible for performing diagnostic tests on body fluids and tissue samples, which help physicians diagnose various health conditions. Through in-class instruction and on-site clinical rotations, ASU-Beebe's MLT program will help YOU gain the knowledge and skills necessary to have a successful career in the field of laboratory sciences!

Skills you'll learn:

- Run diagnostic tests to determine presence or cause of a disease
- Use a microscope to examine body fluids and tissues for abnormalities
- Operate sophisticated lab equipment to obtain accurate patient results
- Determine presence and identification of microorganisms
- Ensure treatments, like blood transfusions, are safe for the patient

MLT CURRICULUM

- ▶ Hematology
- ▶ Urinalysis & Body Fluids
- ▶ Clinical Chemistry
- ▶ Clinical Microbiology
- ▶ Immunology & Blood Bank

10-MONTH PROGRAM

After graduation, you will be eligible to:

- ▶ Obtain your ASCP National Licensure as an MLT!
- ▶ Gain employment as an entry-level MLT!
- ▶ Take advantage of our partnership with UAMS through the MLT to MLS program, while working as a full-time MLT!
